W. H. Mills, col., assistant yard master of East St. Louis, was visiting his parents here last week, Rev. Isaac Mills and wife.

ant call while here.

The Marshall school board made the Kansas City schools a visit Monday getting pointers for Marshall's new high school building.

Jewell Tuck, the young son of Prof. and Mrs. W. S. Tuck is quite ill as the result of an accident at school, which caused internal injuries, it is supposed.

A. J. Odell, of Napton, was in Marshall Monday. He says he has his saw mill running at Joe Brown's four miles east of town, and is making things hum.

Springs last Friday a big success. There was a big attendance of pupils and patrons, a good basket dinner and a profitable day to all. He says the Republicans down there treated him fine.

Claude Allen and bride, of Malta Bend, were in Marshall Monday evening. They had returned from a visit to Slater friends and were enroute to Napton to visit. Mr. Allen seemed afraid to return to Malta Bend as there seemed a probability of a promiscuous reception, such as is usually tendered good natured benedicts.

Our correspondents will please overlook an omission occasionally as for instance last week when the Allen-Levy wedding was reported four times by different correspondents. In a case of this kind we feel compelled to omit some of the reports. The McAllister bridge was reported five times last week and the Blackburn accident four times. We are glad to get the news and believe six reports would be better than none.
